The 21CSS had barely begun when JIMMY SMITH scored a league record 47 points in Week #2, which still ranks in the Top Ten highest scores through 2012. In Week #12, FRED TAYLOR (Cowboys) upped the mark to 48, and two weeks after that, MIKE ANDERSON (Rough Writers) made it 49; Anderson's season-high is still the #4 all-time individual player score.

The historic week #7 game between the Chiefs and the Jalapeños stood for more than four years as league records for the highest combined score and the highest losing score. The Chiefs won, 125-124. The Rough Writers beat the Death Campers, 135-124 (Week 13, 2004) to break the combined mark, and equal the highest losing score record.

Scores for Week #12 through Week #17 (except for WW and POW data) were lost in the flooding of Tropical Storm Allison.

When the McRockers' first round pick slot came due, the head honcho was nowhere to be seen. While Dad was running late, Rick Horrocks Jr. stepped up to the easel and selected a rookie QB. It was the first time such a first-round pick had ever been made. That rookie QB, Daunte Culpepper, went on the All-AWFFL honors that season, and again in 2002, 2003 and 2004.
